

1872, ch. 377.

28. The board of district school trustees shall see that every school-house site is provided with suitable out-buildings.

Ibid.

29. No school house shall be used for any other purpose than public school purposes and school district meetings, unless by consent of the board of county school commissioners, or a majority of them.

Ibid.

30. Contiguous portions of two or more school-house districts may, with the consent of the board of county school commissioners, combine and form a new school-house district; and when thus formed, the said new school-house district shall be invested with all the rights and powers hereinbefore set forth, as pertaining to such districts; provided, that the new school-house district thus formed, or said district from which it may be formed, shall not contain less than thirty-five legal resident voters.

1874, ch. 463.

31. In case of neglect of duty or refusal to act on the part of the members of the board of trustees, their places shall be declared vacant by the board of county school commissioners, who shall fill the same by new appointment; but if it be found impossible to secure competent persons who will act in this capacity, then the duties of the board of district school trustees for the particular district shall devolve upon the board of county school commissioners.

Chapter 6. School Houses and Sites.

1872, ch. 377.

32. It shall be the duty of the board of county school commissioners to select a suitable school-house site in each district, whenever the necessities of the public schools demand a change of site or sites already built upon, or a new school house to be built.

1870, ch. 311. 1872, ch. 377, sub-ch. 6, sec. 2. 1874, ch. 463.

33. The board of county school commissioners may receive donations of such sites or locations for school houses, or of
